Bloody Conquests to Be Stripped from Japan

Lands where Japan's bloody aggression has oppressed the people for 50 years will again be free. That is the promise of U. S., Great Britain and China, as voiced by Roosevelt, Churchill and Chiang Kai-Shek in their North Africa conference. Numbers identify Jap-held areas mentioned at the conclave.

American Army and Navy Casualties in All Branches 126,969

Conquest of Tarawa in Gilberts Exceedingly Costly to U. S.

Washington, Dec. 2.—(AP)—Secretary of War Stimson reported today that American Army casualties from the beginning of the war to November 15 were 94,918, bringing the total announced casualties for all branches of the armed forces to 126,969.

Casualties reported by the Navy department for the Navy, Marine Corps and Coast Guard to date—except for the preliminary reports announced yesterday from the recent operations in the Gilbert islands—total 32,051, of which 13,160 were killed, 5,740 wounded, 8,926 missing and 4,225 prisoners of war.

Stimson told a news conference that the Army total included 14,321 killed, 32,690 wounded, 23,417 prisoners of war and 24,490 missing in action. Of the Americans officially listed as prisoners, 1,610 have died in prison camps, mostly in Japanese-occupied territory, he reported.

Fifth Army's Losses

Stimson announced that American Army casualties in Lt. Gen. Mark W. Clark's 5th Army from the beginning of operations on the Italian mainland to date, total 11,572, of whom 1,811 were killed, 7,91 wounded and 2,670 missing. Casualties of British elements in the 5th Army have been somewhat smaller, he said.

The Navy supplied these figures making up the 32,051-total in the Navy-Marine Corps-Coast Guard: Navy—10,663 killed, 3,001 wounded, 8,248 missing and 2,276 prisoners of war; total, 24,188.

Marine Corps—2,181 killed, 2,666 wounded, 637 missing and 1,948 prisoners of war; total, 7,427.

Coast Guard—316 killed, 78 wounded, 41 missing and one prisoner of war; total, 436.

Tarawa Costly

The costly conquest of Tarawa took a Marine Corps toll of 3,583 dead and wounded in 76 hours of bitter fighting. On Guadalcanal, in six months, U. S. forces lost 86 fewer men.

But from the Navy, and from Maj. Gen. Holland McFere Smith, commander of the assault troops came the disclosures that, first, Japanese losses were estimated at more than 5,700 and secondly, that the conquest of Tarawa was "one of the most costly operations in the history of the war."

Parley With Stalin Expected to Finish World War Strategy

The allied pact of Cairo regarding Japan marks a major upheaval in world history.

It means that a powerful empire is to be wiped out. It means that the relationships among the nations of the orient are to be wholly realigned—that we are, in fact, to have a new orient.

There is perhaps a tendency to lose something of the full significance of the Roosevelt-Churchill-Chiang Kai-Shek conference, because of the elaborate secrecy and drama with which it has been surrounded. Still, in its own right this declaration, which was forged in the shadow of the great pyramids and the Sphinx of Gizeh in the ageless sands of Egypt, must stand as one of the momentous decisions of all time.

We see here clear evidence of the determination to make this global conflict a war which will

Suggestion

St. Louis, Dec. 2.—(AP)—Let's give two jeeps and a plane to every returning veteran!

That's the earnest suggestion of Roscoe Turner, famous speed flier and vice president of the National Aviation Training Association.

"Remember the Civil War slogan, 'Forty acres and a mule for every soldier?' he asks. "That was a far-sighted thought."

"Jeeps, he said in an interview, undoubtedly will do much of the work of farm tractors after the war, and the airplane already has been designated as the coming thing in the post-war period. Many war pilots will work in the air to earn a livelihood."

The plane, however, will never be used as widely as the automobile, he believes; "the human element must be considered; a pilot must have good eyes, quick reflex action and good judgment."

Officer Tells How Pilot Tom Harmon Was Shot Down in Battle Over China

Ann Arbor, Mich., Dec. 2.—(AP)—A flight of Jap Zeros roaring out of the sun knocked down Army Pilot Tommy Harmon and three flying mates "before they knew what hit them."

So began a story the rescued former Michigan All-America football player's parent heard from an officer in Harmon's squadron who seven days ago left China.

The officer, who declined to have his identity disclosed, said that long before it was announced officially this week that Harmon was rescued by Chinese after being missing in action since Oct. 30, his safety was rumored through a "wonderful grapevine" existing among the Chinese guerrillas.

Louis Harmon, Tom's 70-year-old father, said the officer, over long-distance telephone, gave this version of Harmon's disappearance:

Tom was flying in a squadron of eight Lightning fighters, four acting as low-level bombers and four as escorts, which raided Jap-held Kiukiang on Oct. 30.

Harmon flew the "tail" position, described by the officer as the "grief spot," in a top cover of fighters at between 6,000 and 7,000 feet.

After successfully plastering the Jap base, the squadron headed for home, but five minutes away from the objective, a flight of Zeros zoomed down on the escort from behind, using the sun for cover. On their first run, they knocked four P-38s out of the formation. Harmon's plane went down in flames.

Other Lightnings drove off the Japs, bagging two, and then protected the parachute jump of a "hushy" flyer who presumably was Harmon, circling until he reached ground.

This occurred several hundred miles behind Jap lines, but Chinese guerrillas found Harmon and hid him for 10 days while gradually working back towards advanced American bases.

Germans in Italy Drop Back Today

Reported in Full Retreat Before Montgomery's Forces

BULLETIN

London, Dec. 2.—(AP)—The American Fifth Army has launched large scale attacks in Italy, supported by three destroyers, the Berlin radio said today.

Allied Headquarters, Algiers, Dec. 2.—(AP)—The Germans are in full retreat from their ponderously fortified winter line in Italy near the Adriatic, leaving the battleground littered with dead, wounded and wrecked equipment, allied headquarters announced today.

At the same time the nazis apparently were making preparations to abandon Cassino on the Via Cassina, the main inland road up a broad valley to Rome, in the face of rising pressure from Lt. Gen. Mark W. Clark's Fifth Army—supported yesterday by a terrific aerial bombardment, one of the heaviest seen in the Italian campaign.

Spitfire pilots reported heavy German demolitions were taking place at Cassino, approximately 12 miles northwest of the allied front at Mignano, shortly after fighter-bombers, Warhawks and a-36 divebombers had pounded the German defenses along a 20-mile front for three hours.

Sweeping over at 10-minute intervals waves of planes showered hundreds of fragmentation and high explosive bombs in their most devastating combination upon German gun emplacements, trenches and fortifications, leaving them a churned mass of ruin.

The front-line aerial attack was keyed to a similar attack carried out behind the lines.

Rush Reinforcements

Forced to abandon their mountain positions north of the Sangro along the Adriatic in front of the offensive of Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery's Eighth Army, the Germans left more than 1,000 prisoners behind, and were rushing up reinforcements from northern Italy in an effort to check the breakthrough.

The German communiqué broadcast from Berlin said Montgomery made four heavy tank attacks in one sector yesterday.

"On the Eighth Army front out troops have broken through the enemy positions. The Germans are in full retreat," said a special communiqué from allied headquarters.

"Reinforcements are being brought up by the Germans from northern Italy," the communiqué added, in an effort to halt the breakthrough.

"The Algiers radio announcer said, 'In fierce hand-to-hand, yard-to-yard fighting the Eighth Army is dislodging the enemy on a 25-mile front and pressing him back towards Pescara. They are mopping up enemy resistance centers.'

The entire Sangro ridge from Fossacesia to Romagnoli is now in allied hands after 'heavy fighting,' the allied communiqué said, with a 'particularly fierce' engagement having been fought for Fossacesia.

Simultaneously with the rushing of enemy reinforcements to the Adriatic front, the nazis command threw fresh units into the Fifth Army front at the western end of the line. It was disclosed that the

Repatriates Think Conquest of Japan Will Require Years

BULLETIN

Jersey City, N. J., Dec. 2.—(AP)—As disembarkation of repatriates from the exchange liner Gripsholm was completed in record time today, the Navy disclosed that 30 passengers had been removed to Ellis Island for further questioning.

The last of the 1,494 Americans left the ship at noon (CWT), 27 hours after the ship docked. The clearance set a record, for it took three days to pass all repatriates on the Gripsholm's first voyage a year ago, and seven days in the case of the arrival in July, 1942, of the Drottningholm on which the Federal Bureau of Investigation found a German spy.

The transfer of some passengers to Ellis Island is not unusual, officials having taken 162 there from the Gripsholm last year.

Jersey City, N. J., Dec. 2.—(AP)—American repatriates from the Far East headed for their homes throughout the nation today with a grim feeling that a long, hard struggle lies ahead in the Pacific.

One after another said upon stepping from the Swedish exchange liner Gripsholm to American soil that the morale of the Japanese people still was high, whatever doubts might assail the warlords.

At 11:30 o'clock (EWT) last night, 13 hours after the ship had docked, all but 200 of 1494 passengers had disembarked. Government officials, who continued questioning them today, said they hoped to have all cleared by noon.

"It is going to be a long story before the war in the Pacific is over," declared Dr. John Calvin Ferguson, 77, of Newton, Mass., a resident of China for 56 years.

Russell Brines, of The Associated Press bureau in Manila, who formerly worked in the Tokyo bureau, said on leaving the ship:

Sees Five More Years

"I think the Japanese will keep on fighting at least five more years as things are going now. The vital element in the situation is their ability to continue communications, and production."

Happy as the repatriates were to see the Statue of Liberty and their homeland again, they expressed concern over the estimated 6,000 Americans, many of them children, still held in Japanese internment camps.

"Get the Americans and other internees in Manila home, or they will be a lost tribe," commented Mrs. Jessie Mann, a consular service employee. She said food and clothing were major problems to the internees.

Some of the returning Americans told of losing up to 45 pounds while in Japanese custody, and of gaining back up to 20 pounds aboard the Gripsholm.

Two died en route—the Rev. James Hilcoat Arthur, 58-year-old Presbyterian missionary, and Arthur Wood Turner, 52, a Shanghai representative of the General Electric Company.

Japan Will Be Shorn of Her Empire

Cairo, Dec. 2.—(AP)—Britain and the United States agreed on details for a new invasion of Europe and perhaps discussed a strike into the Balkans, it was reported on good authority today, at the epic tri-power conference where, with China, they pledged unrelenting war to thrash Japan into unconditional surrender and tear away the whole empire she has won in 50 years of conquest.

There was a feeling here that big developments would come from the five-day meeting of President Roosevelt, Prime Minister Churchill and Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek, who left for unannounced destinations last Friday after completing their talks.

(Chiang returned to Chungking yesterday, it was disclosed in Chungking, apparently disposing of rumors that the Generalissimo and Mrs. Chiang had proceeded to Iran with Roosevelt and Churchill to confer with Premier Marshal Stalin. Reuters reported from Lisbon Tuesday that Chiang was in the party going to Iran, and the Berlin radio said yesterday a four-way conference already was underway in Teheran.)

For Japan, the three war leaders promised "unrelenting pressure x x x by sea, land, and air," and declared they would strip her of all her empire stolen in five wars since 1894—reducing Japan

Goodfellow Time's Here Again; Some Have 'Jumped Gun'

Goodfellow time is here again and Dixon Goodfellows have even "jumped the gun" and sent in donations before the official announcement of the annual drive was made.

The first donation to the Goodfellow fund this year came from the Junior Chamber of Commerce, which has contributed $60 toward the 1943 Christmas for the more unfortunate little folks of this community. Other donations that have already been sent in to the Evening Telegraph office are the Palmyra Mutual Aid Society, $5; St. Patrick's Catholic Women's club, $20 and the Service Mother's club, $5.

So the Goodfellow fund starts with a total of $90.

Want Names of Children

The Evening Telegraph Goodfellow Club wants the names, ages and addresses and all information about every little boy and girl (under 12 years) in Dixon who will not have a Christmas without Goodfellow help. Lost During Operation at Gilbert Isle

BULLETIN

By The Associated Press

The Berlin radio said today that the U. S. submarine Wahoo had been lost in action. The report was broadcast under a New York date-line and said the Wahoo, commanded by Lieut. Commander Dudley Morton was said to have sunk 19 Japanese ships.

The Navy has not announced the loss of the Wahoo. The wife of Commander Morton told reporters in Los Angeles, however, that the Navy had advised her that Morton had been reported missing in action.

Washington, Dec. 2.—(AP)—The United States escort aircraft carrier Liscome Bay, was torpedoed and sunk by a Japanese submarine during the Gilbert island operations, and was the only American vessel lost during the engagement, the Navy announced today.

The Gilberts engagement itself has been described as one of the bloodiest in the Pacific area.

Rear Admiral Henry M. Mullinix, reported missing, was said by the Navy to have been aboard the carrier.

Captain Irving D. Wiltzie, commander of the Liscome Bay, also is reported missing in action.

Casualties Undisclosed

The total casualties have not yet been disclosed by the Navy. The normal complement of such carriers has not been announced.

The Liscome Bay was the first American escort carrier reported sunk since U. S. entry into the war and is the first carrier of any kind to be lost in more than a year. The last carrier sinking was that of the Hornet which went down in the battle of Santa Cruz October 24-25, 1942.

The sinking brings to 131 the total naval vessels thus far reported by the Navy during the war. Five of the sinkings have been aircraft carriers, including the Liscome Bay.

An escort carrier is a small one, normally used to escort convoys.

AWAIT ATTACK ORDER

(By The Associated Press)

By land, sea and air, the allies fought today along the vast Pacific battlefield to hasten the day of Japan's defeat and dissolution of her empire as mapped by the historic three-power conference in Cairo.

Latest allied war bulletins told of widespread Chinese successes in three provinces of China; a step-up in naval activity against the enemy in the Southwest Pacific, and air blows that rocked Japanese positions from Rangoon to Bougainville.

Even as the broad terms of the Cairo agreement came to light, dispatches from Pacific Fleet headquarters said the greatest naval concentration in history and hundreds of thousands of allied troops awaited the attack order, "which may come at any minute."

The dispatch from William L. Worden, AP correspondent, said the attack would be aimed against those hundreds of islands forming concentric rings of defenses for Japan's valuable conquests in the Philippines and the Indies, adding:

"There will be fights for islands which are not so much of value to the allies as they are dangerous to Japanese hands. On them, Japan has stationed her finest army and navy troops under orders to stay until killed as they did at Tarawa."

$14,020,778 in State Aid to Schools Signed

Springfield, Ill., Dec. 2.—(AP)—Claims of $14,020,778.21 for state aid to schools, approximately $1,800,000 more than a year ago, were certified today by Vernon L. Nickell, superintendent of public instruction, for payment during the fiscal year starting next July 1.

Cook county will receive $4,200,826.92 of the total.

General apportionment which allows $13 per elementary pupil and $2 per high school pupil in average daily attendance accounted for $9,533,668.89 of the total. A special equalization law, guaranteeing elementary school districts a minimum of $62 per pupil in average daily attendance and each high school a minimum of $85, accounted for $4,487,109.32.

Rent Control Case in Circuit Court

One of two cases of alleged violations of the federal rent control act under the O. P. A. in the Dixon defense rental area, was being tried before a jury in the Lee County Circuit court today, in which Charles S. Merritt, a defense worker is the plaintiff in an action against Arthur and Lucy Stewart. The second case has been continued by agreement of attorneys until the January term.

The complaint filed by the defense worker sets forth that Stewart increased the monthly rental of a property at 1029 Peoria avenue occupied by the former from $32.50, which was paid by the former tenant, to $40, and charges six violations of the rent control act.

Attorney Mark C. Keller is appearing in behalf of Mr. and Mrs. Stewart while Attorney Robert Bracken appears for the plaintiff. When Attorney Bracken in-

Terrible Tank Battles Churn in Mud of Western Ukraine; Fight Indecisive

Moscow, Dec. 2.—(AP)—Terrible tank battles churned indecisively today in the mud and slush of the western Ukraine as the Germans, reinforced by eight mechanized divisions, sought to break the Russian stranglehold on their communications.

(The British radio broadcast a Moscow dispatch reporting a German counterattack four miles from the Dnieper bend rail junction of Znamenka. The Russians were reported ten miles from Znamenka yesterday. Berlin said Russian attacks southwest of Kremenchug were intensified and that a soviet battalion which broke through near Cherkasy was wiped out. The enemy communiqué reported heavy fighting continuing west of Krichew on the Smolensk highway.)

Col. Nikolai Akimov, special military reviewer, said among the eight new divisions were the SS Adolf Hitler and the 15th tank, hurried to Russia from Italy; the first tank division from Greece; and the 25th tank division from Norway.

"The principal objective of this formidable panzer force was to break through Red army lines into the rear," Akimov wrote. "All these attempts have been unsuccessful."

Both sides were employing ever larger numbers of tanks in the bulge west of Kiev. Huge mobile guns, larger than tanks, were appearing in increasing numbers. These often were used tread to tread with the tanks in the hard fighting in the forest spotted country where the Germans have regained some sectors of the Leningrad-Odessa railway.

The Germans apparently have piled up superiority in numbers of both men and tanks west of Kiev, but the soviets are working day and night to remedy the situation by funneling reserves across their Dnieper river bridges.

Illinois' Birthday Celebration on Air

Springfield, Ill., Dec. 2.—(AP)—Miriam Meyer, 12-year-old Iroquois county farm girl, will co-star with Governor Green Friday over a state radio hookup during celebration at Vandalia of the 125th anniversary of Illinois' admission to the union. She'll also help him review a parade.

Miriam has been named first prize winner in an essay contest conducted in state schools and with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Meyer, of four miles south of Crescent City, will receive an all-expense trip to Vandalia. She is an eighth grade pupil at Crescent City school. Her winning essay discussed pioneer education.

Mary Rose Roderick, of the Landis school, Sumner, and Marjorie Ann Ackerman of the Hinkley Consolidated school at Hinkley will receive special second-place certificates.

Leaves from an AP War Correspondent's Notebook

BY HAL BOYLE

Allied Headquarters, Algiers, Nov. 30—(Delayed) — (AP)—Mules are being used to carry wounded soldiers from the mountains north of Venevro, Italy, where rugged terrain has given medical men the most difficult problems in evacuation of battle casualties yet faced them in this theater.

A two-man litter saddle which can hold one man on each side of the animal has been devised from captured and salvaged equipment.

Quartermaster technicians made the saddles under the direction of Capt. Robert Reynolds of Konawa, Okla., and Capt. Robert L. Kendall of Ardome, Okla., medical officers in charge of a loading station for wounded men.

It sometimes takes ten hours to haul the wounded on muleback in these improvised litters from the snowcapped mountains to clearing stations and field hospitals.

For two days one four-man team carried heavy litters back and forth ten miles to the front lines.

"We really had some experiences," said Private Norbert Crum of Caldwell, Ohio. "Yesterday we were caught right in the middle of a bayonet charge when we had just picked up a wounded lieutenant. There wasn't anything else to do, so we just kept moving."

"It was funny," said Private Buddie Culppepper of Konawa,

"but every time we left the spot a shell landed right where we had been."

They explained that sometimes it took three hours even to get a wounded man out of no man's land before they could begin that long and delicate descent over steep, rocky and tortuous trails.

One officer said "they usually have to work in the dark because shelling during the daytime prevents removal of the wounded. We haven't been hit yet, and don't intend to."

The litter bearers and first aid men wear the Red Cross prominently, especially since one incident in the field. Three litter squads had completed the evacuation of 15 wounded soldiers from a valley without hearing a shot. No enemy disturbed them. But after the last medical soldier retreated from the line of fire an American infantryman arose and started to advance. A hidden German shot him through the head. First aid men daubed more red paint on their helmets and washed their arm bands so there wouldn't be any doubt in the enemy's mind who they were and what type of work they were doing.

"No use in taking chances," they said.

One crack litter team, working two full days and nights without sleep, walked 125 miles. Its members were Pfc. Orville Bell, Ada, Okla.; Pvt. Benjamin Taneblatt, Brooklyn; Pvt. Harry Jorczak, St. Piette, Ind., and Pvt. Charles F. Seaton of Coffeyville, Kansas.

A Thought for Today

How oft is the candle of the wicked put out and how oft cometh their destruction upon them! God distributeth sorrows in his anger. Job 21:17.

When sorrows come, they come not single spies,
But in battalions. —Shakespeare

Proportional Representation

New York City, the largest community in the world which uses proportional representation (including the preferential ballot) for the election of public officials, is all in a dither. This fall's count resulted in election to the City Council of two Communist party candidates, one notorious party line follower, and one Republican who is branded as a dangerous person because, as a former borough president, he retained a Communist party member on his personal staff.

Reform elements which in 1936 assisted in selling proportional representation to the electorate in a referendum now have turned on the system and are questioning its merits.

As confirmed opponents of political Communism, and as worriers about about the inroads being made by what seem to us to be very subversive elements, we do not like the result of the New York election.

But we do not blame proportional representation and the preferential ballot for the unfortunate situation in which the metropolis now finds its City Council-elect.

We blame the voters. Even more, we blame the reform elements which sold the system, realized that it could work satisfactorily only with an educated electorate, and then failed to teach the people how to use the new machinery of democracy.

Even preliminary analysis of the voting shows that proportional representation in New York did exactly what the people were told that it would do, and what they wanted to have it do. It reflected the sentiments of the electorate as expressed on their ballots.

In the old days New York had a Board of Aldermen of 65 members. Tammany Hall and her affiliated machines used to poll between 50 and 60 per cent of the votes and elect from 62 to 64 of the 65 aldermen. The electorate was misrepresented.

This year Tammany and her associates polled 57 per cent of the first choice votes for City Council member and obtained 59 per cent of the membership. That is a mighty close approximation to accuracy.

The Republican accused of left-wing tendencies is an incumbent councilman, a man of the highest integrity and of much intellectual capacity, an administrator of demonstrated ability, a legislator who has proven his worth. His principal fault is a touch of mulishness which led him to resist pressure to fire a competent workman for party membership. He is not a Communist.

The two avowed Communists and the one party line follower were elected because the Communists, alone of all political groups in New York, worked their fool heads off for their candidates. They canvassed from house to house. They spent much money on persuasive literature. They were so brazen as to advance a platform for their candidates which, if one forgot it was Communist, was mighty convincing.

Meanwhile the other parties slumbered peacefully and trusted in a God to whom they did not even trouble to pray for success.

So the left wingers won because they got out the votes. That, it seems to us, is of the essence of democracy. A system which permits the majority of votes to win, instead of bulwarking a minority in control over the government, is democratic. No system can enforce good government. It can only give the voters their chance.

It was not proportional representation that failed. It was the anti-left wingers. They played into the hands of machine politics, which hopes that New York's experience will kill off that bane of all machine politicians, proportional representation with the preferential ballot.

Latin American Rubber

Dr. Earl N. Bressman of Costa Rica, in an article prepared for the Office of the Co-ordinator of Inter-American Affairs, predicts that production of rubber in the tropical Americas will survive post war competition both from low-cost plantation rubber from the Far East and from synthetic manufacture.

Technically this is true. Undoubtedly there will continue to be some natural rubber produced in Latin America and purchased by the United States and European nations. This was true even before the war created a sellers' market for Brazilian rubber.

But we may just as well be realistic. The amount of Latin American rubber flowing to world markets is going to be small unless the entire set-up down there is revised, fast.

Brazil, Bolivia and Peru, principal rubber-producing countries of the Amazon basin, original home of the hevea brasiliensis, are relying upon wild rubber, which is costly beyond all competitive possibility.

In Haiti and in Central America some plantation trees have been started. There are not enough to supply the major world demand for rubber. And labor costs, even in Haiti, are pretty high on contrast with those in Malaya.

If Dr. Bressman is saying that tropical America can obtain some economic benefits by producing some rubber for the industrial nations, then he is correct. If he is inferring that the United States, for example, can hope to rely upon tropical America as its principal post-war source of rubber, then he is much over-optimistic, so far as developments thus far are concerned.

That is too bad. This country would like to get rubber from its good neighbors, in order to have access to a supply that would not deplete our petroleum resources and that yet could never be cut off by the aggression of future Nipponese generations.

It is not unavoidable. If the Amazon countries choose to open up plantations, which could begin producing in around seven years, they can count upon hearty co-operation from us.

But if they have any idea that we are going to continue paying triple and quadruple prices, and even higher, for rubber, after it becomes available at normal prices, they are due for a sad disappointment.

Dutch Spirits

The burning hatred of the Dutch toward their German masters can be judged in part from an article written for the October Schweizer Spiegel (Swiss Mirror) by a Swiss recently returned from Holland to his homeland.

"I talked with many victims of Allied bombing but not one of them spoke against Britain and all seemed convinced of the necessity of the bombing. I witnessed Netherlands crowds cheering vociferously as they accompanied captured British airmen being marched to the railroad station. When German office buildings were destroyed by bombing, thousands of persons collected to gaze on the sight with enraptured faces."

Inspired Tribute

A Miami dry cleaner has announced that "Miami children are swell." The tribute was occasioned, it appears, by the children's response to the cleaner's plea that they refrain from soaping and greasing plate glass windows, to save soap and greases.

Dixon children are swell, too. Our cleaners love them, particularly in peace time, when their activities form a valuable backlog for the business of dry cleaners. No town that has many children ever will have completely impoverished dry cleaners.

"TOMORROW . . ."

CHAPTER XXVIII

RIDING through the cool night with its lingering smell of burning brush she said, suddenly, that she was thinking of leaving Cranberry and going to Boston.

He said, "You're crazy, you're needed here. By your patients—they're used to you, attached. By the office and—the rest of us," he added, "your people, me!"

She said gently:

"You'll get along."

Driving through the darkness, the cool crisp night, silent, thinking, if it could be like this always, if you could maintain the illusion, two people alone, two people together, out of all the world, doing their job together, loving each other very much.

He said, slowly, "Don't go into anything in a hurry, will you?"

"No."

On their way home he said, diffidently:

"I've been wanting to tell you something, but I'm a little scared."

"What about?" She thought, it can't be Nancy, he's always discussed Nancy with me.

He said, "The housing conditions at the Edgar mills. I've started trouble. Your dad will back me up, but it's my show really. I've been talking out of turn, to members of the medical society, to some of the city officials—the more honest city officials, I might add. In January Sellop will retire from the Board of Health. There's every likelihood that Jameson will take his place. Jameson is all right. The Edgar interests can't intimidate him. Jameson believes he's under obligation to me, too. . . . You know, when your dad went to Boston for that last meeting and his kid had the accident and they called me, in consultation. Anyway, what with one thing and another, I think pressure will be put on Carter to do something about the houses. . . . I just wanted you to know that it may mean trouble with the Edgars—"

"MEANING Frank?" said Emily. "Yes, But," he added hastily, "he'll see reason, you can make him. I don't want to throw any monkey wrenches into your personal affairs, Emily."

"Don't worry about Frank."

"But," he said, "if you and he—"

"That's nonsense."

"Nancy said—"

"Nancy doesn't know," she said firmly.

"But if you're in love with him?" he persisted.

"I'm not. Would I be contemplating going away to work if I were?"

"That's right," He chuckled. "I'm glad. You don't mind, do you? Not that he isn't a good egg and all that." He added gravely, "Your mother's going to be sore, if any estrangement arises because of this. She's very much on the Edgar side."

"What does father say?"

"He said, 'Go ahead.'"

"Well," said Emily, "more power to you."

He took a hand off the wheel and touched her shoulder. He said wistfully,

"I wish you'd stay home and see me through this. Why do you want to go, Emily?"

Because I'm in love with you, she thought, because it's unendurable, being with you, because I can't bear to look at you, when Nancy's nearby—or watch her . . . amusing herself with making you jealous . . .

Aloud she said, "Restless perhaps, tired of being in one place."

"That isn't like you," he said soberly.

"Well," she said lightly, "I

WINTER came early that year, early snows, high winds, severe cold, relieved by short spells of clear, freezing weather, skies like black ice, pierced with the frosty swords of starlight.

Jim, going to a call, was astonished to find Nancy muffled to the ears in sweaters, scarfs and a shaggy fur coat waiting for him.

"You don't want to go this sort of a night," he expostulated.

"I heard the 'phone ring. Do take me. I'm bored stiff. Emily's buried in a book. Mother and Dad went to the charity concert. I've been frantic."

"Why?" he inquired.

The ground was hard, it cracked under their feet, as they crossed toward the garage.

"I don't know." Her hand clutched the yellow paper of the wire in her pocket. She was so happy she could laugh, shriek, cry. She couldn't sit shut up at home with her happiness. The walls would close in on her. She had to push them out. She said, "The roads are clear, the ploughs were through and it hasn't snowed hard for several days. No ice even. I've got to go with you, Jim . . . please."

She stood outside the garage door and lifted her arms. She put them around his throat and stood on tiptoe to kiss him. She kissed him because she could have kissed lepers, beggars, idiots. She was brimful of kissing. Because she was happy.

"Nancy?" he held her closely. "Nancy—you don't mean—"

"I don't mean anything. Hurry . . ." She scurried into the garage ahead of him, "Where are we going?"

The Hanson baby has the croup," he explained. "No one is home except the grandmother. The parents are in New York for the weekend."

The Hanson house, a small frame cottage, was on the outskirts of town. Nancy waited in the car, holding fast to the slip of yellow paper in her pocket.

She was saying to herself, Tomorrow I'll see him . . . tomorrow.

Germans in Italy

34th American Infantry division is with the Fifth Army of Lt. Gen. Mark W. Clark.

United States troops who before dawn yesterday beat back two very determined enemy counterattacks in the hilly country guarding the mountain block to the main road to Rome took prisoners from the German 44th Infantry division. That new division in Italy, reconstituted after being destroyed at Stalingrad, is the eleventh German division now known to be in action in Italy—a total of approximately 165,000 men.

34th Veteran Division
The U. S. 34th Infantry division is a veteran outfit which gained fame by the spectacular capture of Hill 609 in the Tunisian campaign. It is the fourth American division which belated official announcements have disclosed as operating in Italy. The others are the 36th, 45th and third.

The heaviest of the two pre-dawn German counterattacks was launched at the Filigiano area, four miles north of Venafro. It was repulsed completely.
The other thrust was to the southwest, in the vicinity of Mt. Camino, southwest of Mignano which controls the road to Cassino.

American Flying Fortresses struck yesterday for the second time at the Fiat plant bearing works at Turin in northern Italy.
The Turin factory, the third most important of its kind in Hitler's control, was reported to have been made inoperative by a large-scale raid Nov. 8 but had been repaired since.

Wave after wave of American Mitchell also hit German troop concentrations.
Approximately 50 German fighter-bombers attacked the Eighth Army in three formations yesterday. In all, three enemy planes were shot down yesterday, while every allied plane returned from its mission.

A Navy communique said American motor torpedo boats defending Bastia, Corsica, clashed with German "E" boats Monday night, damaging one and probably damaging others.

Draft Boards Asked to Finish Classification

Springfield, Ill., Dec. 2—(AP)—A recent request that Illinois draft boards complete reclassification of registrants in 3-A will provide "a clear picture of available manpower," state selective service headquarters said today.
Reclassification was begun August 15. Since only a few finished the task, boards have been asked to complete the review by December 31.

in the near future is regarded on a tactical basis as extremely remote. The fleet now is greatly outnumbered and the Japanese expect the Japanese to lose their fleet back, possibly never risked in toto until the homeland is in danger of invasion.

"This, of course, has nothing to do with submarine attacks on convoys or even small fleet actions. These have been taking place recently and can be expected to continue.

"All in all, the coming campaign, whether centered in the Indies, the Kuriles or the central Pacific, is in many respects island hopping whether we like it or not. But Attu and Tarawa have demonstrated two things: Such islands can be taken even when Japan considers them impregnable; Japan either is unwilling or unable to send help to such picked troops, leaving the garrisons to face extinction."

Powerful Counterblow

The agreement reached by the United States, Great Britain and China, to force the unconditional surrender of Japan and to strip the empire to its pre-aggression status of 50 years ago was seen in Washington as a powerful counterblow against Japanese anti-western propaganda.

The Tokyo radio was not heard to comment on the announced decisions of President Roosevelt, Prime Minister Churchill and Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek.

Informed Washington observers expressed opinion the Pacific strategy called first for recapture of Singapore and the Philippines to obviate dependence on the Burma Road which was held inadequate to keep supplies rolling for a major offensive in China. That would open the supply door to China through its south coast and the China sea.

In the current battle sphere, Japan appeared weakened at two Southwestern Pacific points. American light naval craft shelled enemy bases at Gasmata, New Britain, and Madang, New Guinea, both already hard hit by allied aircraft.

In New Delhi, American authorities declared Rangoon, Burma, was undoubtedly on the way to becoming useless to its Japanese captors as the result of night-and-day raids by the 10th American Air Force.

Japanese bases on Bougainville, northern Solomons, came under renewed attack by American planes, but there was no word of the ground fighting there nor any confirmation of the Tokyo report of new American landings.

Dying Man Says Booze Hi-Jackers "Got" Him

Chicago, Dec. 2—(AP)—William Wytrykus, 37, who was shot in his north side radio and music store last night, told police before he died that "whisky hi-jackers got me." Police Sgt. Timothy O'Connell said today.
Julius Sherwin, assistant state's attorney said he believed Wytrykus was shot by men who mistook him for a witness in a case against three men accused of whisky hi-jacking, now pending in criminal court.

The War Today

in truth tend towards the Utopian goal of ending all wars.

These three major allies in the war against Japan—Russia, of course, isn't fighting Nippon—have taken the grim stand that the Japanese empire is to be rendered impotent to make further war. She is to be shorn of her ill-got gains and thus to be reduced from the status of a first class power to that of a minor island kingdom. In the process she is to be stripped of all her mandated islands and the many territories which she has taken by force over a period of half a century.

In order to achieve this historic change, the allied war machine in the orient already has swung into action to "bring unrelenting pressure" against the Japs. In reaching their decisions, Roosevelt, Churchill and Chang Kai-Shek were surrounded by one of the greatest aggregations of military and political experts to attend such a conference.

Our Commodore Perry in 1854 brought Japan into the modern world. Since then she has steadily aimed to make herself the dominant figure of Asia, employing militaristic aggression with increasing frequency. Now we are in process of shoving her back where she belongs.

Word that the oriental war-mill is beginning to grind at high speed is of the greatest importance. Dispatch is essential, for China is dangerously weak in her resources—virtually without military equipment, if we would be exact. She must be rearmed so that she may fling her great manpower against the Jap armies. That means reopening routes into China so that allied supplies can reach her—Burma, the back door, for one.

One wonders whether the Cairo conference got any further than these sweeping fundamentals. Perhaps not, for this is the time for action and not for talk of distant details affecting a brave new world which hasn't yet been created.

Various European reports have it that the three great men of the Cairo conference have now proceeded to Teheran, the Persian capital, which is the aerial gateway to Russia, to meet with Marshal Stalin in another conclave that will consider the other half of our global war—the European conflict. If this is so, one would expect that the idea will prevail of sticking largely to the fundamental operations necessary to achieve a quick victory over the Hitlerites.

FRONT PORCH CAMPAIGN

Harrisburg, Pa.—(AP)—Curtiss Geiger, 16, nearby Speeceville, traveled a hundred miles or more to hunt in the woods of Potter county, but never saw a deer.

Back home empty-handed, he was on his own porch when he spied a six-point buck on the mountainside. A shot from his rifle brought it down.

Parley With Stalin

as the first approach to post-war planning for the Far East.
Premier Stalin's absence from the conference with Chiang seemed to indicate his steadfast desire to avoid any soviet involvement with Japan.

Provides Reassurance
The Cairo communique, meanwhile, was accepted as a sign of United Nations solidarity in the Pacific just as allied solidarity in Europe was demonstrated at the Moscow conference of Cordell Hull, Anthony Eden and Vyacheslav Molotov. To that extent it provided reassurance to any who feared the British might relax their efforts after Hitler is beaten.

The scope of the military talks apparently covered the globe. Few would be surprised if the conference led to the early appointment of Gen. George C. Marshall, the United States Army Chief of Staff, as commander-in-chief of allied forces for a mass invasion of the continent.

In the meantime, it is reported, a land route from India to China is to be forged so that supplies which China so badly needs may reach her.

The Dutch government, mindful of its rich empire the Japanese took "by violence and greed," officially expressed full agreement with the Cairo program.

French officials in London welcomed it "with satisfaction."

Both the Dutch and the French have pledged themselves to pursue the war against Japan.

"Leak" Criticized
Washington, Dec. 2—(AP)—The flashing of news about the Churchill-Roosevelt-Chiang conference from European capitals while the American public generally had to await an official release of the information to this country's news outlets aroused reverberations in congress today.

Some of the kickback fell on the Office of War Information, notwithstanding the fact that the official release time was given here by the White House—not OWI.

OWI Director Elmer Davis explained, when the jumble developed, that his agency had nothing to do with the White House communique, handed to newsmen 30 hours ahead of authorized release to the general public, and also no part in setting the 7:30 p. m. (EWT) Wednesday, Dec. 1 release time noted on the communique.

OWI Also Bound
Davis pointed out his office was bound by that timing, in the same way that newspapers and radio stations were.

The Navy's communique was terse, listing only the number of casualties and the duration of the fighting. But from it, and from other announcements, these comparative figures were available:
Tarawa—1026 dead and 2,557 wounded.
Makin—65 killed and 121 wounded.
Abemama—One killed and two wounded.
Guadalcanal—963 dead, 138 missing and 2,675 wounded.

Dirksen Announces Candidacy for GOP Presidential 'Nod'

Pekin Congressman's Announcement Made in Washington

Washington, Dec. 2—(AP)—Representative Everett M. Dirksen (R-Ill.), who is serving his sixth term in congress, announced today he would be a candidate for the Republican presidential nomination next year.

Attached to his formal announcement was a copy of a petition signed by 36 members of congress, including 11 from Illinois, urging him to submit his name to the 1944 national convention of his party.

"This effort to seek recognition on the national ticket is dedicated to a complete and speedy victory over our enemies, a victorious peace, a sound program for the disposition of post-war domestic problems, the preservation of freedom, the restoration of balanced government, a militant united party and a Republican victory", Dirksen stated.

He also remarked that "I am pledged to the support or interest of no other person than myself".

Dirksen, 47, a native and resident of Pekin, Ill., and a veteran of World War I, began his congressional career in 1933.

The formal statement did not mention whether he would enter the Illinois presidential preference primary next April. The Republican Nationalist Revival Committee plans to circulate petitions to draft Col. Robert R. McCormick, editor and publisher of the Chicago Tribune, as a candidate in the state primary. McCormick has not commented on the move. Wendell Willkie, Republican standard bearer in 1940, told reporters last summer he would get into the Illinois primary if the publisher did. Gov. John W. Bricker of Ohio, an avowed contender for the Republican presidential nomination, has not decided whether he would step into the Illinois primary.

Others Discussed

Others who have been discussed as Republican presidential possibilities include Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York, Gen. Douglas MacArthur, Gov. Earl Warren of California, and former Governor Harold E. Stassen of Minnesota, now a lieutenant commander in the Navy.

The petition signed by the 36 congressmen set forth in part:

"One who has served in the congress and possesses a knowledge of and familiarity with the structure, functions and processes of the federal government would lend strength to the Republican national ticket in 1944. "From intimate and close association with Congressman Everett M. Dirksen we know his diligence in the public welfare, his devotion to sound and balanced government, his broad grasp of federal functions and his capacity for dealing with national problems. We x x x therefore urge him to submit his name through appropriate channels for consideration by the Republican national convention for nomination for the office of President of the United States".

Signers were Representatives W. H. Wheat, L. C. Arends, C. W. Bishop, Robert B. Chipfield, Anton J. Johnson, C. W. Vursell, N. M. Mason, Cal D. Johnson, Evan Howell, Sid Simpson and Charles S. Dewey of Illinois, Paul Schaefer (Mich.), William S. Hill (Colo.), Ross Rizley (Okla.), Ben F. Jensen (Iowa), Karl Stefan (Neb.), Paul Cunningham (Iowa), Max Schwabe (Mo.), W. P. Elmer (Mo.), Wat Arnold (Mo.), Lawrence H. Smith (Wis.), Karl Mundt (SD), Thomas D. Winter (Kas.), Howard Buffett (Neb.), Walter Ploeser (Mo.), J. Glenn Beall (Mo.), Reid Murray (Wis.), Walt Horan (Wash.), Marion Bennett (Mo.), Henry Dworshak (Idaho), W. C. Cole (Mo.), John Gwynne (Iowa), Alvin O'Konski (Wis.), W. P. Six Navy Men Die in Bomber Crash Sunday

Beaufort, S. C., Dec. 2—(AP)—Lieut. Joseph W. Beach, USNR., whose wife, Mrs. Margaret Louise Beach lives at Murphysboro, Ill., was killed Sunday in the crash of a naval bomber from the air station here which the Sixth Naval District headquarters announced yesterday, after withholding until notification of next of kin.

The crash also took the lives of two other officers and three enlisted men, and four enlisted men were injured. Officials said the bomber crashed and caught fire directly after taking off from the station. Memorial services were held for the six victims.

TRAFFIC FATALITY

Alton, Ill., Dec. 2—(AP)—J. T. Elmore, 69, Mulberry Grove, was killed and the Rev. H. L. Sparks, 60, pastor of the Cottage Hill Baptist church, was slightly injured in a truck-auto collision yesterday.

Plenty of Corn on Farms; Little Seen on Grain Markets

Chicago, Dec. 2—(AP)—A scarcity of corn in marketing centers provides a sharp contrast with conditions on farms in the mid-western corn belt, where, according to reports received by grain firms today, there is plenty of the golden grain.

The corn harvest this year was in excess of 3,000,000,000 bushels, the second largest on record, but the movement to terminals has been far below the needs of deficit producing areas, such as the east, which must import corn from the mid-west to provide feed for dairy animals.

One leading grain firm said, "much corn has apparently been held on farms in anticipation of an increase in ceiling prices". The present ceiling is $1.07 a bushel at Chicago, and news dispatches from Washington have said this would be raised to lure the grain out.

One reason given to explain the withholding of corn has been the fact that it is more profitable to feed the grain to hogs, and sell it as pork meat, than to market it as grain. The profit in such feeding, however, is very much less than it was at this time last year when corn moved to market freely.

The corn-hog ratio at Chicago today is 12.6 to 1 against 16.5 to 1 a year ago. This means that 100 pounds of live hogs are now worth only 12.6 bushels of corn while last year they were worth 16.5 bushels. Record breaking receipts at livestock markets indicate farmers are not holding hogs to pour more corn into them, but, instead, are marketing them at lighter weights than last year.

TURNABOUT

New York—(AP)—Bronx zoo officials, more than once troubled by escaping animals, scratched their heads in wonderment today. A full-grown, brownish fox was nabbed by park attendants—trying to get into the zoo. Where he came from, nobody knew, but Reynard now is a resident of one of the cages.

Army Engineers to Train at State Park

Camp Ellis, Ill., Dec. 2—(AP)—An advance convoy of the Engineers Corps at Camp Ellis has left this service forces unit training center with boats and bridge-building equipment to be used in training at Starved Rock state park, on the Illinois river near Ottawa. During the next few months the engineers will learn how to build pontoon, foot and assault bridge bridges and rehearse various types of river operations.

In 1940 our output of aviation gasoline was approximately 619,000,000 gallons, or about enough to operate 2000 of our transport planes.

munity high school Monday evening, Nov. 29. The evening's festivities began with the regular business meeting at 8:00 o'clock. T. Dombrowski, general superintendent of the Sheridan branch of the Illinois State Training School for Boys, was the guest speaker and he gave an interesting talk dedicated especially to the mothers of today. This closed the business meeting and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Nangle opened the program by singing a beautiful duet. Miss Ellen Giotfelty then played a musical selection on the piano to complete a short but entertaining program. The regular scheduled meeting will not be held in December because of the presentation of the Christmas operetta at that time. This is a highlight of the entire season and a large crowd is desired.

A large group of friends and relatives gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wright Thursday evening for a delicious turkey supper. Following the supper the evening was spent with the group visiting.

Those present for the Thanksgiving celebration were: Mr. and Mrs. Stirling Willstead and daughters Eleanor and Judith of Harmon; Mr. and Mrs. Earl Schroeder and daughters Karen and Mary of Sublette; Mr. and Mrs. William Schroeder and Mr. and Mrs. Junior Schroeder and son Leroy of Paw Paw.

Birthday Party
Young Donald Foster, son of

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Foster was the guest of honor at a birthday party held at the home of his parents Wednesday afternoon. The young people enjoyed several games and contests that furnished a great deal of fun for all. The hostesses, Mrs. Tom Foster, Mrs. Lewis Shaddick, Mrs. Frank Ambler, and Mrs. Lester Erlenbach, served delicious refreshments of ice cream and cake during the afternoon's festivities. Donald received many nice gifts from his friends to help make this, his fifth birthday, one he will long remember. The young people on hand for the party were: Janet Erlenbach, James Lindin, Joyce Shaddick, Terry Ambler, Lois Foster, David Erlenbach, Barbara Franks and Robert Shaddick all of Paw Paw.

Rebekahs Meet
The Rebekah members met at the hall Friday evening for their regular meeting. The usual business meeting took place with Ruth Teece, delegate to the state assembly held at Springfield last October, gave her report to those present. This was the main feature of the evening and the business meeting was followed by a social time. Plans were also made at this gathering for the Rebekah Christmas party which will be held on Friday evening, Dec. 10, at the hall. Each member is asked to bring a 25-cent gift at this time and the evening's festivities will begin at 8:00 o'clock. All are cordially invited to attend this special event as a pleasant evening is promised for all.

Missionary Society
The members of the Baptist Missionary society gathered at the church parlors Tuesday afternoon for their November meeting. The usual business meeting was held with the president, Mrs. Henry Faber presiding. Mrs. Olive Shafroff had charge of the devotionals and this closed the business session. Mrs. Kenneth L. Bilby gave a most interesting talk on "The Controversial Issues of Our Foreign Mission Societies," during the social time. It is announced that there will be no missionary meeting in December but will continue with these helpful and interesting meetings in January of 1944.

Supper Guests
Mr. and Mrs. LaVerne Schlesinger of Mendota entertained a large group of relatives at their home Thursday evening for a delicious Thanksgiving supper. The supper was served at 6:00 o'clock and this is an annual get-together for the family. The evening was spent with the group visiting and everyone reported a pleasant evening.

Those present for this Thanksgiving supper were Mr. and Mrs. Albert Schlesinger and Louis Wilhelm of Mendota; Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Kern and son Roger, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Walter and family, and Alfred Kern and son Robert, all of Paw Paw.

VERY AERIE
Billings, Mont.—(AP)—Police said the man walked into a tavern with an eagle—a live one—on his shoulder.

The bird attacked with enthusiasm the array of liquor bottles and glasses, the back-bar mirror, and the tavern owner.

The eagle-wearer said honest, he'd just been walking quietly down the street when the bird swooped down and lit on him.

Spokesmen for the rubber industry have warned that despite the great success of the synthetic rubber program, there is a serious tire scarcity now which will grow to a shortage of 2,000,000 passenger car tires by Jan. 1, 1944, and a shortage of 1,500,000 truck tires by the end of this year.

UNRRA About Ready to Begin its Organization

Atlantic City, N. J., Dec. 1.—(AP)—The initial task of writing and adopting a constitution under which the United Nations will co-ordinate the relief and rehabilitation of the war zones ended today in an open plenary session at which delegates spoke of the hope for a better world which has grown here as men from 43 nations worked in a spirit of compromise.

Director General Herbert Lehman complimented the council on its work—which was completed a week ahead of schedule after 21 days of labor—and pledged his "complete and sincere efforts" to the job ahead.

Lehman said that within the next few days he will establish UNRRA headquarters in Washington, and plan for the staff and organization as rapidly as possible. In a final press conference Lehman had said that he hoped the United Nations constitutional bodies would make funds available as soon as possible, and that he would hold himself ready, at an early date, to go wherever he is needed.

The British delegate, Col. John J. Llewellyn, asserted that "the goodwill, the good teamwork, and the good sense which has ex- erted between us here, is a good augury for the dawning of a peaceful, better world".

Constance Bennett is Defeated in Appeal

Norwich, Conn., Dec. 1.—(AP)—A Probate court ruling that Philip M. Plant died without issue, a contention which had been opposed by actress Constance Bennett in behalf of Peter Bennett Plant, her 14-year-old son, was affirmed yesterday by the Superior court.

Declaring that Peter was her son by her marriage to Philip, the second of her four husbands Miss Bennett had appealed from a Probate court decision stating that Plant had died childless and therefore Peter was not entitled to share in a $650,000 trust fund created by the late Commodore Morton F. Plant, wealthy transportation magnate and Philip's stepfather.

The film star's appeal went on trial two weeks ago, but the case ended suddenly in a settlement giving the youngster $150,000 less lawyer's fees.

SANTA CLAUS ASKS OUR HELP IN PROVIDING GIFTS FOR CAMP GRANT SERVICEMEN

Santa Claus is stuck, and everybody can do something about it! Caught in the squeeze of the manpower shortage, he put out an urgent appeal yesterday for assistance in accumulating gifts for servicemen being treated at the Camp Grant Station hospital.

At the same time, Miss Josephine Nichols, delegate of the Camp Grant Camp and Hospital council, announced that plans for the distribution of gifts to hospitalized servicemen have already been completed.

The Camp Grant Camp and Hospital council has decided that any person or organization may enclose their name with their gift so that the soldier may know from whom it comes. All gifts should be turned in to Miss Josephine Nichols at the Red Cross Production room in the Nachusa hotel. Just wrap your gift in the proper Christmas trimmings—as gay as possible please—and to avoid duplication of gifts mark plainly on the outside as to the contents.

To answer the question which produces the annual national headache—what to get?—Council members decided on the direct approach. They personally asked a number of men in the hospital what they would like to receive in the way of a Christmas gift and the answers ranged from "Hedy Lamar" to "total victory over the enemy."

The more moderate men were willing to be happy on an assortment of things which included homemade cookies and candies, shoe shine kits, mufflers, and the like. Many had these preferences not without good reason.

"I'm sure if I had a muffler," commented one soldier, "I wouldn't be in this ward with a bad throat. A muffler, that's what I'd like to have."

"Candy and nuts," said another Johnnie Doughboy in response to the question, "It makes it seem more holidayish."

The Council, which last year sponsored the collection and distribution of 1,500 gifts for hospitalized servicemen, hopes to duplicate its feat this season. "But we can't do it without the wholehearted help and cooperation of the entire community. If everybody pitches in with true holiday spirit, it won't be at all difficult," states Mrs. Hinchliff, Rockford chairman.

If you've had a time of it this year selecting gifts for that soldier of yours who is away, the council is bound to make it easier for you to send a gift by suggesting the following items: Khaki woolen mufflers, khaki woolen gloves, khaki handkerchiefs, nail files or clippers, pocket knives, leather wallets, sewing kits, regulation ties, chess and checker sets, cigarettes, towel and washcloth.

MRS. JOY DIEHL IS HOSTESS AT C. & S. CHRISTMAS PARTY

The C & S club of the Church of the Brethren held their annual Christmas party last evening at the home of Mrs. Joy Diehl, 503 Crawford avenue.

Following the business meeting conducted by the club president, Mrs. Ira Utz, games were played for the remainder of the evening. Gifts were exchanged and names of secret sisters for the past year were revealed. Miss Lena Bowers assisted the hostess in serving refreshments.

Mrs. Floyd Floto is to be the next hostess and all members are urged to attend as there will be an election of officers.

Phidian Art Club Hears Mrs. Cannon Speak on Alaska

The first of a series of papers on Alaska was given Tuesday when the Phidian Art club met with Mrs. George C. Dixon. The speaker, Mrs. LeGrand Cannon, very ably gave the background and a look into the future of one of the possessions of the United States which has been so prominent in the war developments recently.

Mrs. Cannon brought out how different the situation might be if Japan had bought this piece of land from Russia instead of the United States. Americans at the time of the purchase of Alaska in 1867 felt that the government was throwing money away. This frontier is developing rapidly due to the new roads and recently constructed air bases.

"There will be steady development after the war," the speaker stated, "by men who love the frontier life and see possibilities in the industries which thrive there."

The meeting closed with a social hour, Miss Fanny Murphy presiding at the tea table.

Service Mothers Pack 102 Boxes for Service Men

An undertaking, which deserves a lot of notice is that which members of the Service Mothers organization have taken on this Christmas, besides finding time for opening the "Stop Over" station for service men and women just recently. Their Christmas present to the boys in service will be 102 boxes filled with all sorts of good things to make them happy during the holiday.

The Service Mothers met yesterday in an all day meeting with scramble luncheon at noon, a business meeting in the afternoon, and found time to pack all 102 boxes to be shipped for early arrival at camps all over the country. Forty women were present for luncheon.

At the afternoon meeting, ten names were added to the membership. They are Mrs. C. L. Bradford, Vernon Tennant, Avis Marks, H. F. Walder, Ed Witzleb, Ed Mathias, Harry Quirk, H. F. Ware, Martin and Griffith. Mrs. E. J. Brown, president, presided at the meeting, and Mrs. Dudley Grow gave an interesting report on the "Stop Over" station, which up to date has served 137 service men from all parts of the country.

Plans were also completed at this meeting for the chicke. supper the organization will sponsor as a means of raising funds to help support their service men's and women's center. It will be held at the Elks club on Saturday, Dec. 11.

GIRL SCOUT LEADERS AND COUNCIL MEET AT LOVELAND HOUSE FOR SCRAMBLE SUPPER

The Dixon Girl Scout Leaders' association met last night at 6:30 for a scramble supper and business meeting, with members of the Girl Scout Council as guests, and Mrs. Norman Dietrich presiding. The evening's entertainment opened with a get-acquainted "mixer" and introduction of members of both organizations. Group singing of Christmas carols was accompanied by Miss Margaret Knight at the piano and little Miss Donna McCordie at the accordion.

Mrs. James R. Palmer, Dixon Girl Scout commissioner, announced that Miss Grace Ritson, executive secretary, will leave Dixon January 1st to assume new duties at Highland Park. Pending the appointment of a new executive secretary, Mrs. John Malay, for many years a diligent Scout worker, will handle office details at Girl Scout headquarters.

Miss Ritson, who has successfully directed Scout activities in Dixon for the past two and one half years, was presented with the official Girl Scout "Thank You" badge which is one of the highest honors that can come to a Scout director. She was also the recipient of a tiered Merry Christmas cake which was made and presented by Mrs. Dan McCordie.

Mrs. Norman Dietrich announced the appointment of Mrs. Leslie Smith and Mrs. Lyle Wade as members of the calling committee, and Miss Ruth Knight as the association's pianist. The scramble supper marked the last meeting of Miss Ritson with the Dixon Girl Scout Leaders' association and was closed with the singing of Bless Be the Tie That Binds, and Miss Ritson's very inspiring farewell and appreciation for the cooperation of leaders and council members during her work here.

The Loveland school troop of Girl Scouts, made up from the fifth and sixth grades, sang a musical number of their own composition and concluded their part of the program with the singing of "White Christmas."

NEWS BEHIND THE NEWS By PAUL MALLOTT

Washington — Treasury Secretary Morgenthau got excited when a house sub-committee gave out the information that the Army was turning back $13,000,000,000 to the treasury a few days before he was to appear before the senate finance committee and persist in his demand for a $10,000,000,000 new tax bill.

His experts in the treasury were set to work hurriedly to give revised budget estimates to offset the argument the day before he went on the stand. Also publicity men had large portfolios of mimeographed statements ready to hand out in flowing series to the press in the senate committee room as Morgenthau and others testified.

Obviously, the treasury already had lost its tax argument. In fact, senate committeemen advised Morgenthau not to appear, saying it was useless.

The case he presented was his same old shop-worn theory with some alterations, running like this:

Taxes are needed for three reasons—war revenue, to stop inflation, and "the sobering effect it would have on the public understanding of the true cost of the war."

The revenue plea has been fairly well destroyed by the fact that nearly half the revised war costs will be raised by taxes, whatever figures you choose.

The notion that you can stop inflation by taxation is a theory of some financial economists, difficult to understand or accept. For one thing, Morgenthau's $36,000,000,000 figure of the inflationary gap between national income and expenditures has been placed by the house Democratic committee report at only $10,000,000,000 to $25,000,000,000.

The difference between these estimates is represented mainly by the fact that Morgenthau includes savings, whereas the committee does not consider these inflationary, as they are not being used to bid up prices and create black markets.

Furthermore, the picture of the national economy being bloated with swollen incomes is also theoretical. The house bill would not allow anyone to keep more than $25,000 after taxes in 1944 and 1945.

There is excess money in the hands of war workers, and there is inflation already. But whether it is caused by the excess money is a question. You might just as reasonably conclude the opposite, and say inflation could be cured by letting prices go higher, thus absorbing the excess.

You might more reasonably conclude that the cause of black markets is government regulations and price ceilings which make it profitable for bootlegging of choice foods outside legitimate channels.

From another standpoint, prices already are too high when measured against the income of the white collar worker which has not been increased.

Whichever viewpoint you take leaves Morgenthau high and dry and practically alone in his proposal to close the gap by taxation.

But his weakest, and perhaps most revealing point, is his last—his idea that taxes should be levied to create a sobering effect on the people. Everyone I know is fairly sober already, both about the war and taxes, in fact, too sober.

In all the history of tax proposals, no one before ever attempted to justify them on the grounds of sobriety. If Morgenthau wanted to influence the spirits of the people by taxes, he could darn well have urged that they be reduced.

Only one point presented by his experts made much impression, a contention that the house bill would cause every married taxpayer to figure out nine different alternatives before he could decide what he was supposed to pay.

The true situation is that, with swift end of the war in Europe now universally hoped and expected, with expenditures therefore likely to decline sharply next year, not even the $2,000,000,000 house bill is justified by arguments presented.

In fact, one house committee member has said privately the only reason the bill was being passed was that the treasury had raised such a hullabaloo about more taxes, something had to be done even if it were only one-fifth of what the treasury wanted. To this must be added the current law (Victory, withholding, etc.) had to be simplified.

Japs Will

virtually to the same territorial status as before Commodore Perry opened up that oriental land of the Shoguns in 1853. Only her home islands would remain.

Major decisions were reported reached for brilliant developments in World War Two, and while the official announcement dealt only with Japan, no one questioned that the secret, day-and-night conference was global rather than strictly Far Eastern in character.

A reliable source — reporters were barred from the heavily-guarded proceedings — indicated that the American and British general staffs in their biggest meeting yet probably had decided details for a new offensive against Europe, as well as details of Mediterranean and Middle East affairs.

At a meeting not attended by the Chinese, these general staffs were reported to have engaged in long arguments and discussions on a European invasion before reaching a united front on details coming into the picture since the Quebec conference.

Balkans Also Discussed

The question of the Balkans also was discussed, said men in position to know details of the proceedings. One official observer reported that Mediterranean affairs were the first subject of the biggest military meeting of the entire conference.

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower presided at this conference, it was said, and there was sound reason to believe that not only the present campaign in Italy was reviewed, but also future possibilities, including a possible Balkans campaign in which soviet leaders are intensely interested.

Only one real vestige of the conference, outside of newspapermen, remained when the official communique was released last night. It was disclosed that the senior American war planning group met yesterday morning and held a joint conference with their British opposite numbers in the afternoon.

The American group included Rear Admiral B. H. Bieri, Brig. Gen. L. S. Kuter for air, and Col. F. N. Roberts for the Army, but it was not disclosed whether they were interested primarily in European or Far Eastern affairs.

There was an inkling, however, in the hint that Lt. Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell, U. S. commander-in-chief in the China-Burma-India theater, might return.

Restraint, Punishment

There was no secret, of the conference's purposes as regards Japan, for the official communique asserted that "the several military missions have agreed upon future military operations" against her, and that "the three great allies are fighting this war to restrain and punish the aggression of Japan."

Japan will be thrown out of "all territories which she has taken by violence and greed," the communique added.

(By this, Japan's possessions would be sliced from areas of some 3,000,000 square miles and 500,000,000 population to some 148,000 square miles and wholly Japanese population of 75,000,000.)

Significantly, the military leaders participating included Lord Louis Mountbatten, allied commander-in-chief in Southeast Asia; General Stilwell, and Maj. Gen. Claire L. Chennault, U. S. Air Force commander in China. And there now is good fighting weather in the China-Burma-India theater.

Significantly also, it was learned that Gen. Douglas MacArthur's chief-of-staff, Maj. Gen. Richard K. Sutherland, attended the meetings, thus bringing in MacArthur's Southwest Pacific command.

Sutherland was not mentioned in the communique listing major leaders, but for that matter it also did not list Mountbatten, Stilwell or Chennault. Nor was Sutherland's name mentioned by the observers at the sessions who reported the physical activities to the corps of newspapermen, who were required by censorship to sit in Cairo.

The controversial issue of "island hopping" to strike at Japan, to which MacArthur is opposed, was discussed thoroughly, a British source reported.

The great conference brought together 201 British experts, more than 100 Americans, and 20 Chinese.

Besides the reported discussion of a new invasion of Europe and Balkan matters were these other indications of the global nature of the talks:

Turkey May Come In

The active presence of the American and British ambassadors to Moscow, W. Averell Harriman and Sir Archibald Clark Kerr, could not escape notice in the communique. Turkish reports that Turkey virtually is in the United Nations camp, and either will join in the war or cede bases shortly, British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden, who conferred here after the Moscow meeting with Turkish Foreign Minister Numan Menemencioğlu, was an active latecomer to the conference.

A British source said the principal problems submitted by the Chinese were: Combined strategy for the Pacific, southeast Asia and China theaters for quick defeat of Japan; reopening the Burma Road by an offensive from India; urgent supplies for the Chinese armies and people, and post-war reconstruction in China, including help from the allied governments.

Main issues, listed by this same source, on the American-British side were:

Other Issues Listed

1. Taking the sea-air offensive to Japan's very gates, with sea power represented at the sessions by strong naval staff personnel, including 58 British Admiralty officials alone.

2. Avoiding local operations, a point in which "island hopping" was discussed.

3. Broader liaison among staffs in future strategy.

4. The staggering problems of troop and supply transport.

5. Increasing the power of the air offensive in the Pacific.

The conference was, as a representative of Roosevelt described it, an "open secret." Thousands of heavily-armed soldiers and barbed wire guarded the conference area — which still can be identified as "in North Africa"—and newspaper correspondents were not allowed to see even one of the principles in the drama.

Their only news came from four non-journalistic observers, news limited in the main to physical facts.

Roosevelt, adding still more to his astronomical total mileage of travel, came by air, Monday morning, Nov. 22, and was whisked off in a curtained limousine along a road lined with soldiers who were ordered to turn their backs. By plane, in the long hop from China, came generalissimo and Mrs. Chiang Kai-Shek, who acted as interpreter for her husband. Churchill came by sea, arriving Sunday evening, Nov. 21. The Chiangs arrived Sunday morning.

Three U. S. Airmen in England Decorated

London, Dec. 2—(AP)—Adm. Harold R. Stark has decorated three U. S. airmen whose bomber crashed in the Bay of Biscay after battling six JU-88s which attacked them during an anti-submarine patrol, Navy headquarters announced here yesterday.

The distinguished flying cross and the purple heart were awarded Ensign Donald D. Barnett, USNR, Bethalto, Ill., navigator. Air medals were given Terrence E. Tennant, radioman, Choteau, Mont., and Casimir Pytel, ordnanceman, Peru, Ill.

Six others of the same crew were decorated early by Navy Secretary Frank Knox while he was visiting Britain.

Barnett was wounded in the neck, leg and arm by gunfire and his jaw and collarbone were fractured in the crash landing.

Although the plane was riddled by cannon fire and two engines were ablaze, the pilot, Lt. James H. Alexander, Sioux City, Ia., who now wears the DFC and the purple heart, escaped the attackers in clouds. Unable to make land, he landed in the sea and all nine crewmen struggled free before the plane sank.

Thirty-eight hours later, they were rescued from their rubber rafts.

About Half of Money for Lincoln Address Has Been Contributed

Springfield, Ill., Dec. 2—(AP)—With about half of a $60,000 goal already contributed, a campaign to buy a manuscript of Lincoln's Gettysburg address for the state historical library has been extended to February 1. School children have been contributing nickels and pennies since October 15, when an original 30-day drive began.

Presentation of the gift now is planned tentatively for February 12, Lincoln's birthday.

Sterling Jewelry Store Window Is Robbed in Night

Costume jewelry and rings worth approximately $300 were taken from the window of the Sterling Jewelry store, 7 East 3rd street, Sterling at 1:30 a. m. Wednesday by an unknown vandal who smashed the window with a rock enclosed in a portion of a stocking.

Dr. T. J. Turney, dentist, who resides in an apartment above the store, told authorities he heard the sound of breaking glass and went to the window of his apartment, but did not see anyone leaving the store.

Turney called the police, who notified William Oppold, owner of the store, Horace Rubright, night merchant police man, stated he had checked the store about five minutes before the robbery occurred.

Oppold said the jewelry piece of most value in the window, a diamond ring, was found under the rock which was hurled through the glass. Authorities are investigating the theft.

FIRST RUBBER

White men got their first glimpse of rubber on the island of Haiti, in a ball game. Columbus and his men found Indian children playing with balls of rubber on the sandy beach.

Meet Your Carrier

Building model aeroplanes is the hobby of Joseph "Joe" Blackburn, carrier salesman on Route No. 15 in Dixon.

Joe, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Blackburn, 310 W. 7th St., has been a member of the staff for the past 6 months, and distributes over 120 papers each evening in the south and southeast portion of town. He attends St. Mary's grade school and thoroughly enjoys all sports, principally basketball and football.

According to Joe, he has no difficulty in keeping his route well collected and completes all distribution each evening in less than 45 minutes. Generally speaking, he is done carrying by 4:30 p. m.

Many church-goers to St. Mary's will recognize Joe as the young man who sells Sunday papers in front of the church each week.

His route begins at 118 and 122 E. 3rd St.—314 and 316 S. Galena—100 block on E. 4th St.—East side of the 400 block on S. Galena—105 and 110 E. 5th—E. side 500 and 600 block on S. Galena—109 and 114 E. 7th St.—E. side 700 block on S. Galena—107 and 111 E. 8th St.—700 and 800 block on

Rent Control Case

roduced a copy of the Act of Congress creating the rent control in defense areas, Attorney Keller objected, stating that the proceeding was unconstitutional and void. Judge George C. Dixon, who is presiding, admitted the act. In voicing his objection Attorney Keller said:

"There is not one lawyer in 5,000 who after several months study has been able to interpret these rules and regulations and this or no other jury can be expected to accomplish that feat within a short space of time."

The jury selected in the trial of the case is composed of the following: Ruth Fulfs, Fred Schafer, Harry Slaybough, Matilda Vaile, Charlotte Merrow, Edna Briscoe, Leslie Bresson, Ruth Emmert, Dorothy Reitz, Grace McGinnis, Harry Hogan and Ed Lenox. The remainder of the special panel was excused by Judge Dixon for the term.

The jury which yesterday heard the testimony in the action brought by Tobias C. Bowers of this city against Theodore Schulte, farmer of near Franklin Grove, claiming one-half the amount realized by the latter from the sale of a registered Ayshire bull, while Schulte was a tenant on the Bowers farm in South Dixon, returned a verdict of not guilty.

SHADOW OF DOOM FALLS ACROSS NAZI GERMANY

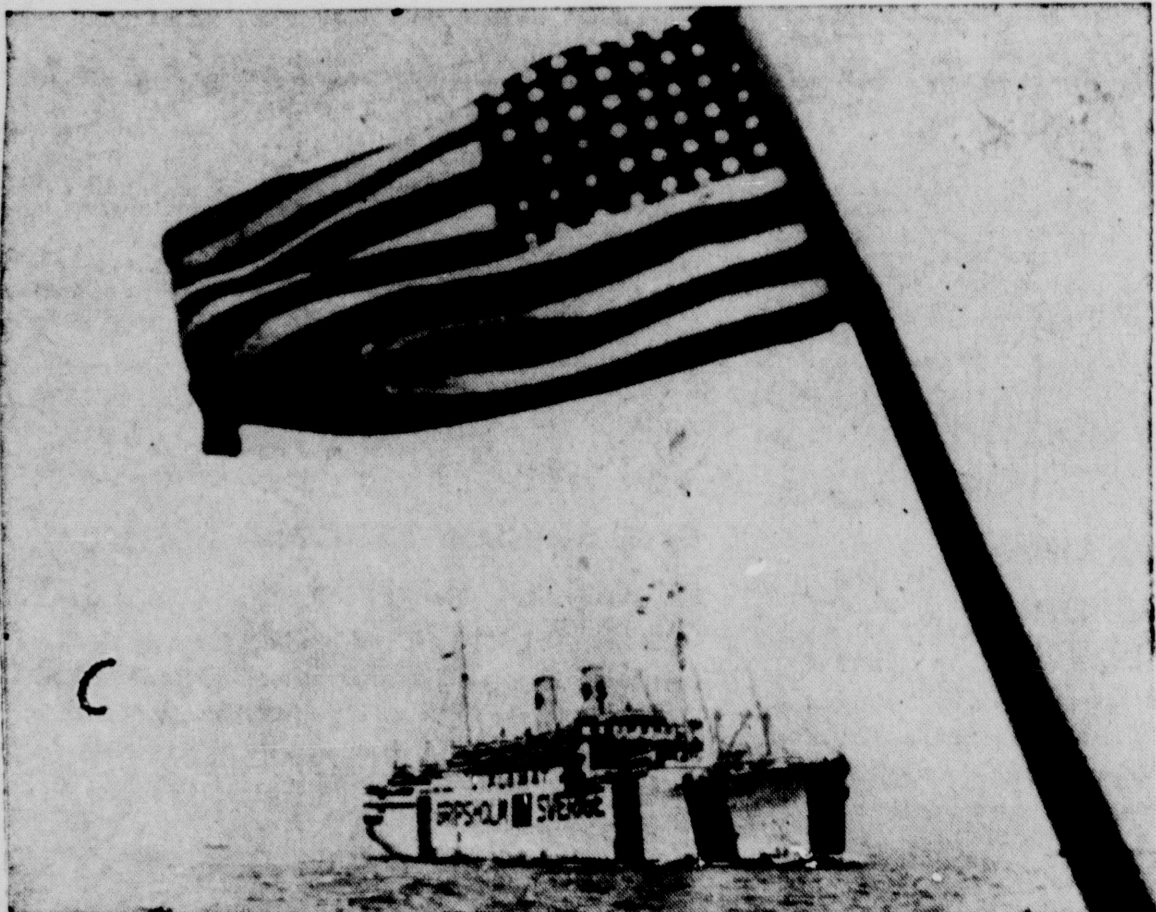

One thousand tons—1500 tons—2000 tons—2300 tons—that's the way the bombs are falling on Germany and occupied Europe, and here are the top targets of the past three months. The RAF at night and the U. S. Army's 8th, 9th, 12th and 15th air forces by day have teamed up in a super effort to blast Germany out of the war. Map also shows total 1943 bomb tonnages dropped on several of Germany's hardest hit cities.

PARADE OF U. S. DEFEATS AND VICTORIES SINCE PEARL HARBOR

After two years of war, America is coming out on the credit side of the ledger as our number of victories increase and defeats become fewer and farther between. Chronology chart shows major war events involving American forces since Pearl Harbor.

God Bless America

Fifteen hundred cheering, weeping Americans and Canadians rose up in song as the repatriate ship Gripsholm, returning them to their homes from internment camps in Japan, steamed past the State of Liberty into New York harbor.

Youngest American on Gripsholm

Squalling her greeting is Gretchen Penelope Whitaker, 2 months old, youngest Gripsholm passenger. Born on the Teia Maru, ship which carried repatriates from Japan to Mormugao, Portuguese India, she is the daughter of Charles Whitaker, state department employee. With Gretchen and Mrs. Whitaker are Joseph Paul, 4, and Andre, 2.

Dmitri's Niece

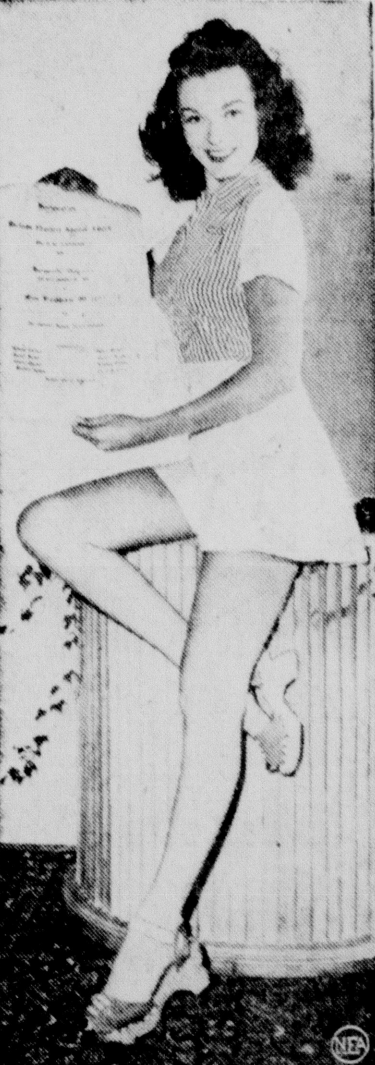

One nice niece is Valeria Brownell, Hollywood starlet whose uncle is famed Russian composer Dmitri Shostakovich.

Chin Up, Old Boy

Bald-domed Benito Mussolini assumes a familiar pose with that famous chin again tilted skyward. This new picture of the ex-Duce came from Germany via radio from Stockholm.

Miss Breathless

Don't breathe a word about it, but Hollywood's Marguerite Chapman has been chosen "Miss Breathless of 1943" and has a certificate to prove it.

They Flirt With Danger

Another "man's job" gives way to the ladies, as the trim trio above takes over test pilot jobs for Grumman aircraft. Mrs. Teddy Kenyon, Barbara Jayne, and Elizabeth Hooker make pre-combat tests of high-speed Navy Helicats and Avenger torpedo bombers at Bethpage, N. Y.

'Now I Lay Me Down to Sleep'

Curled up on a wooden bench, with her dog Queenie as a pillow, Katy Jo Meistereifel spends the night in Atlanta's Union Station. Unable to find a landlord who would take children and dogs, Katy slept one night behind a billboard, and is now on her way back to Pennsylvania with her mother and brother.

WASP Uniform

Jaunty beret and blue jacket and slacks form the new uniform of the WASPs (Women's Airforce Service Pilots), who ferry aircraft in the U. S. and Canada.

Smiling Premier

Free of Fascism, but committed to resign when Allies free Rome, Italian Premier Pietro Badoglio is snapped in a jovial mood at a press conference in Naples.

Use Less Water, Says Bathing Beauty

You can get just as clean in a tub one-third full of water as in a full one, says towel sarong girl Ruth Woods of New York, who posed for this poster picture to aid the war on water waste.

Mobile Aircraft Carrier

This strange manner of vehicle is just a big truck ferrying a disabled Australian Beaufighter to the repair shop after it came in on one motor and made a belly landing. The Aussie fighter squadron in northwest Australia has downed 60 Jap planes.

BONDS OVER AMERICA

Finns, Norwegians and Swedes have collaborated to build the thriving city of Astoria, Oregon, where this shaft keeps green the memory of John Jacob Astor, co-founder of the fur trading post.

Baseball's Rebels' Put Landis' Fate up to Judge Himself

Claim Bramham's Ruling is Detrimental to the National Pastime

By SID FEDER

New York, Dec. 2.—(AP)—The "rebels" who tried to blow Kene-saw M. Landis part-way off his baseball throne kept their fingers crossed today in the last desperate hope the high commissioner, himself, might put some new life in their slightly-dead revolution.

And as they waited for the decision of "the head" on the appeal they took to him last night, after the rebellion was practically blown apart at the general meeting of the National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues (the minors), the assembled delegates at the winter meeting finally found a bit of choice trade talk to chew on.

In the middle of this gossip around the ivory market place were the Washington Senators, and assorted rumors had them dickered with (a) the Cleveland Indians, (b) the New York Yankees and (c) the St. Louis Browns. The most frequently passed-around tip was that the Nats were after pitcher Jim Bagby, infielder Russ Peters and fly chaser Jeff Heath from the Indians.

But the big noise still was the late-lamented revolution. Landis might revive it by the decision he announced he would have some time today. If he decided in favor of the five minor league "insurrectionists," he would be in practically the same spot as the fellow who, after barely escaping from in front of a train, went out on the tracks again so the engine could have another shot at him.

Bramham Reverses Field

These insurrectionists—the Pacific Coast, International, Piedmont and Pony leagues and the American Association—had their revolution well organized yesterday. However, William G. Bramham, the National Association president, threw a fast one at them by reversing his field and giving back voting privileges to 16 minor leagues whose ballot he took away several months ago because they didn't operate in 1943.

Fifteen of these 16 voted yesterday, and as a result, Bramham was re-elected president of the National Association for another five-year term at $25,000 annually and the major-minor league agreement was renewed for another year. The "rebels" had planned to elect Frank J. Shaughnessy, International League president, to Bramham's spot as minor league czar and to vote against renewing the agreement which enables Landis to rule the minors as well as the big boys.

The plea to Landis was taken on the ground that the conduct of the meeting was detrimental to baseball—the only basis on which he can take jurisdiction. The whole thing was explained to him by a committee which included Ralph H. Daughton, president of the Piedmont League, and J. Kemp Bartlett, Jr., secretary of the International League's Baltimore club. Both of these men are lawyers. But it must be remembered that "the head" is a handy man with his Blackstone, too.

Big Ten Basketball Schedule 'on Table'

Chicago, Dec. 2.—(AP)—A revamped 1943-44 Big Ten basketball schedule was in prospect today as conference athletic directors and cage coaches opened a two-day meeting here.

Already revised three times, the present schedule was expected to undergo further changes to accommodate teams which must observe the 48-hour travel restriction imposed on Navy and Marine squad members.

Attending the meeting, besides the Big Ten sports chiefs, are representatives from Notre Dame, Marquette, Michigan State, Great Lakes, Camp Grant and the Iowa City Pre-flight school.

CEDAR RAPIDS

Records

Chicago, Dec. 2.—(AP)—As the University of Chicago's basketballers, all 6-footers, were hanging up their 39th in a row, the Marshall high school juniors made it 82 consecutively.

The only difference was that the high schoolers won, crushing Local 42-25. The Maroons, on the other hand, lost to little George Williams College of Chicago, 50-27.

Dec. 6, 1941, was the last time a University of Chicago quintet tasted victory, whipping Illinois Tech 43-29; and their last Big Ten triumph was a 35-32 win over Minnesota on Feb. 18, 1940.

Rock Falls Plays Dixon High Cagers Here Friday Night

Two Games on Card; Both are Non-Conference Tilts

By BILL EVANS

Friday evening the Dixon Dukes basketball team will open its 1943-44 season here in the local high school gymnasium against the Rockets of Rock Falls in a non-conference game.

This year Dixon is without regular leftover from last year while the Rock Falls team can count on two regular back-sets, a forward as Rock Falls' mainstay this year and will count many a tally against the foes of the Rockets. This means that the Duke guards will have to be on their toes Friday evening if they wish to stop Mr. Bogott from going on a scoring spree.

The other returning regular from last year's Rock Falls team is Collins, a six foot one and one-quarter inch guard, who will do the rebounding for the Rockets in their back court.

Although the Dukes are without a returning regular, Dixon will have the edge in eight by an inch per man. The Dukes will put a team on the floor Friday evening that will average six feet while the best Rock Falls can do is to tall an average of five feet eleven inches.

Two Dukes Over Six Foot

The Dukes will have two men over six foot on the floor in Center Bob Marshall and Forward Roger Bivins. The former is six feet five inches tall and the latter is six foot two inches tall. These two boys will be the scoring aces for Coach L. E. Sharpe's cagers and in order for Rock Falls to emerge the victor, they will have to stop these two scoring.

The following starting lineup will take the floor in Friday night's Dixon-Rock Falls basketball game. There will also be a lightweight game that will get under way promptly at 7:00 p. m.

Varsity Lineup

Rock Falls—
Bogott—5 ft. 11 in. F.
Verland—5 ft. 9 in. F.
Harrington—5 ft. 11 in. C.
Collins—6 ft. 1 in. G.
Robinson—5 ft. 9 in. G.

Dixon—
Goff—5 ft. 8 in. F.
Bivins—6 ft. 2 in. F.
Marshall—6 ft. 5 in. C.
Williams—5 ft. 11 in. G.
Walters—5 ft. 11 in. G.

Officials: Vaughan; Dalquist.

Decision for Bivins Is Not That of Crowd

Cleveland, Dec. 2.—(AP)—Official Jimmy Bivins still is the country's number one active heavyweight, but the people's choice is gangling Lee Q. Murray from South Norwalk, Conn.

The unanimous decision awarded Bivins in last night's 10-rounder between the two Negroes prompted a symphony of protest from Ohio's record indoor boxing crowd of 14,500 who thought they were seeing the Cleveland Jose his first fight since Bob Pastor came out on top in April of 1942.

The blood-smeared Bivins was booted all the way to his dressing room while the disappointed Murray drew a thunderous ovation.

Bowling Bits

By "FRIDAY"

Boynton-Richards dropped their lead of one game and went into a tie with Chauffeurs Local at 22-14, when they dropped two to E. B. Raymond Co. Schroeder led the Clothiers with 579 and Cammon had 513 to top Raymonds.

To gain their share of the tie the Chauffeurs took two from Harmon with Kentzer rolling 601 to lead the Drivers and Hopkins having 508 for Harmon.

Sunnybrook went into a tie with Stables for the next spot with 21-15 by taking two tilts from Hunter Co. Al Wolfe rolled 605 to lead Sunnybrook and Nelson had 552 for Hunter Co.

The Stables took all three games from United Cigar Store with Orville Legore turning in 569 for the Stables and Fitzsimmons shooting 494 for United.

Hill Bros. held on to a tie with Harmon at 20-16 when they dropped two games to Reynolds Wire. Fordham had 532 to lead the Millmen and Bob Hill shot 525 to head the Grocers.

Myers Royal Blue, the only other team above the half-way mark in wins, 19-17, won two games from Dixon Cut Sole, the last, which was scored up as a win for the Shoemen, later was found to be a tie when a ten-pin error was discovered, but some of the boys had left so the game will have to be rolled off at some later date. "Peewee" Myers had 582 to lead the Grocery and Dempsey shot 481 for the Cut Sole.

James Billiards took two from Nachusa with Monte Miller having 518 to lead the James Boys and Fassler rolling 495 for Nachusa.

Shell Service won three from Potts Market with Brotherton rolling 452 for the Butchers and Moerschbacher turning in 567 for the Oilmen.

Only two "600" series were turned in last night, Al Wolfe being the high man with 605 and Kentzer shooting 601. High individual games were as follows: Legore, 202; E. Klein, 245; Kentzer, 238; Moerschbacher, 230; Lazier, 200; Detweiler, 230; W. Klein, 216; Al Wolfe, 228-219; Nelson, 201; Ransome, 214; Schroeder, 210; Cannon, 208; Myers, 206-211; Dempsey, 208.

In the Ladies' league at Lincoln Lanes last night D. H. S. held on to a two game lead by taking two from North Central. The Grade school girls set a new team high game record to take the first tilt and then must have tried to rest on their laurels. J. Johnson shot 447, which included a new high individual game of 198, to lead the High school and E. Olson had 406 for the Northsiders.

Nixon's held on to second, two games behind the leaders with 19-14 by taking three from Swissville Grocers. Marie Worley was high for Nixons with 293 and M. Germanson led the Grocers with 339.

One game behind with 18-15, Barriagres is tied with Scanlon's. Barriagres also made a clean sweep of their series with Rationing Board with Phyllis Carson having 462 for Barriagres and L. Kelly shooting 325 for the Rationers.

Mrs. F. Blewfield Gives Book Review for Woman's Club

Wednesday afternoon the Literature and Library service department of the Dixon Woman's club presented the third book review of the season at the Loveland Community House. Mrs. Floyd Blewfield, who is well known as a speaker, gave a most interesting dramatic review of the recent publication "The Little Locksmith" by Katharine Butler Hathaway.

This autobiographical narrative is one that chronicles great events in the life of an unusual person. The great adventure which brought this unique and appealing book into being begins in the mind of a young girl forced by fate to build her own world within reach of her two hands. It comes to a triumphant conclusion with the book itself—a work of such clear and tender quality, both in the writing and in its revelation of the author's personality, that its publication becomes a landmark in creative writing.

Kitty Butler spent ten years of her childhood strapped to a stretcher. She had her private realm of imagination. When she was fifteen years old she emerged from this "horizontal world" and was pronounced cured. At last she saw things from a perpendicular point of view. This brave girl found happiness in writing and she devoted herself to literary effort with a great passion. She hunted for the perfect place to write and eventually discovered the ideal retreat in a house along the Maine coast on Penobscot Bay. The book is built around Kitty's experience in buying and reconditioning a home, in planning how best to use it, in gaining cherished friends among new neighbors.

Katharine Butler Hathaway died last Christmas Eve but in "The Little Locksmith" she left a most precious legacy.

Mrs. Adolph Eichler, chairman of the Literature department of the Woman's club, announced that the next book review will be given by Mrs. Gerald Jones in January.

ON FURLOUGH

Pfc. Louis Sindlinger has returned to his post, Camp Gordon Johnston, Fla., after spending a 10-day furlough with his wife and his mother, Mrs. Bertha Sindlinger.

DAR State Regent to Be Guest of Dixon Chapter

Mrs. J. DeForest Richards, state regent of the Daughters of the American Revolution, will be guest of honor when members of the Dixon chapter meet at 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon in the Community House this Saturday. Mrs. Richards will speak on "Government of the People, by the People, for the People."

Hostesses for the meeting will be Mrs. J. B. Lennon, Misses Clara and Dorothy Armstrong, and Misses Grace and May Johnson. Members are asked to remember to bring their gifts for the Ellis Island Christmas box.

MRS. JOHN MILLER IS HOSTESS TO AMOMA SOCIETY

Amoma class members held their meeting Tuesday at the home of Mrs. John Miller, with Mrs. Bertha Mason and Mrs. Fannie Toland as co-hostesses. The President, Mrs. Fennie Johnson, opened the meeting with songs, and devotionals were under the direction of Mrs. Nell Dimmick.

Pvt. Robert Roulter, who is in service with the armed forces overseas, has been adopted by the class for the duration, and will be receiving a box for Christmas that was packed at this meeting.

Mrs. Alia Kerley, Mrs. Millie Steen and Mrs. Nell Dimmick were appointed as a nominating committee for new officers for the coming year.

The Amoma class aids Manna-belle Clark, a missionary worker in the mountains of Tennessee, and have sent her nine boxes of clothing to clothe the people there. Mrs. Mary Strock gave an interesting talk Tuesday on the work that Manna-belle Clark does for the Tennessee people.

A member of the Amoma class, Mrs. Donna Clark, will soon be moving to Mayfield, Ky., to make her home and the class remembered her by having a handkerchief shower as a farewell gesture.

The December meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. W. D. Milliken, and at this time secret sisters will be revealed. A gift exchange will also take place.

Funeral services were held at 1:30 p. m. today at the Lawnridge cemetery, with the Rev. C. A. Hull, pastor of the Methodist church, officiating.

WILLIAM GROSS

Princeton, Dec. 2.—William (Bill) Gross, a nephew of Mrs. Edwin Helmig, Peru, died suddenly Monday afternoon at his farm home near Princeton. His death was attributed to heart disease.

Mr. Gross, who was well known in this community is survived by his wife and two sons, Virgil, serving in the army, and Lester, who is in the navy. His mother, 10 sisters and one brother also survive.

MRS. MARIETTA HAHN

Rochelle—Mrs. Marietta Tobias Hahn, 89, resident of Rochelle for 60 years, was found dead at 11:30 o'clock Wednesday morning at her home, 304 Main street, by her daughter, Mrs. Myrtle Longenecker. Death apparently was caused by a heart attack.

Mrs. Hahn was born Oct. 13, 1854, at Washington, Ill. She moved to Rochelle 60 years ago.

Surviving, besides Mrs. Longenecker, are another daughter, Mrs. Orva Wright of Rochelle; four grandsons, including Capt. William Longenecker, stationed with the Army air corps at Norfolk, Va., and Pvt. Charles Longenecker of Fort Snelling, Minn.; six great-grandchildren, and one sister, Mrs. Frank Evans of Rochelle. She was preceded in death by her husband, W. T. Hahn, who died in 1918, and by one son, who died in infancy.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. Friday at the Unger funeral home. The Rev. C. A. Hull, pastor of the Methodist church, will officiate and burial will be in Lawnridge cemetery.

FRANK MCINTURF

Mendota—Frank McInturf, 84, Mendota resident for the last 36 years, died at midnight Monday in his home on Sixth avenue. He had been seriously ill the past week.

A son of Mr. and Mrs. Adolph McInturf, he was born July 14, 1859, in Seneca township. Following his marriage he farmed in that community until he retired and moved to Mendota 36 years ago. For a time he assisted his brother, Fred, in the furnace and hardware store here until Fred retired a few years ago.

Surviving are the widow and two children, Mrs. A. C. Bailey of Denver, Colo., and Roy McInturf of Mendota; three grandchildren; three brothers, Fred of Mendota, John of Sheridan and Bert of Princeton; a sister, Mrs. Clifford Lanson of Morris.

GEORGE COOK

George Cook died at his home in Rockford on November 29 after a short illness of three days. He was the only surviving brother of the late Morris Cook of Steward, who preceded him in death by three years. George Cook was a long-time resident of Alto township and came to the Cook homestead in the early year of 1868.

Memorial services for Mr. Cook were held in Rockford this afternoon at 2 o'clock in the Grace Methodist church and burial was in the Auburn avenue cemetery.

Winter Squash is Good Addition to Day-by-Day Menus

May be Preserved for Use Later by Canning or Dehydrating

Cooler weather brings heartier appetites, and squash is one of the vegetables that fit into family meals admirably. The supply is plentiful and prices are reasonable in most areas, so let's use it to the fullest.

Winter squash is at its best when baked and steamed, according to Dr. Frances O. VanDyne, associate in home economics, University of Illinois college of agriculture. For baking it is only necessary to cut it into sections and remove the seeds and fibrous material. When squash is to be steamed it should also be peeled.

Steamed squash is more moist than baked and lends itself better to mashing for casserole dishes of various sorts and for puddings and custards. In favor combinations of squash with other vegetables, such as green celery and chives. The varieties of squash kept satisfactorily in storage under fairly simple conditions of storage. While a dry, above-ground frost-proof place is best, it may be kept in a storage room in the basement or in a dry, well-ventilated cellar. If storage space is limited, squash may be preserved for use later by canning or dehydrating.

Need Pressure Canner

Since squash is a nonacid vegetable, a pressure canner is necessary for the processing. For canning cut the squash into sections and peel it. Cut the sections into smaller lengths or cubes—about 1 or 1½ inches—put it into a small amount of boiling water and cook slowly with occasional stirring until thoroughly heated—about 8 to 10 minutes. Pack it into hot containers, adding ½ teaspoon of salt per pint, and cover with boiling water. Process pint jars or No. 2 cans at 15 pounds pressure for seventy minutes.

Late-maturing varieties are best for drying. Select products that are mature and in good condition to use fresh. Cut into strips from 1 to 2 inches wide and peel. Remove the seeds and pithy material, cut the strips into pieces ¼ to ½ of an inch in thickness, and blanch either in steam or boiling water for from 3 to 6 minutes. The length of the blanching period depends on the nature of the flesh, which varies widely with different varieties. However the blanching period is completed as soon as the pieces become transparent, and the process should be halted at once.

Start the drying at a temperature of approximately 135° Fahrenheit and increase it gradually to 160° Fahrenheit as the product dries. The squash is properly dried when the pieces have become leathery in texture, but show no moisture when cut across and crushed.

The Navy purchased its first aircraft in the spring of 1911, and established an aviation training camp at Annapolis.

Eliminate Waste by Wise Use of Left Over Foods

Using leftovers may not sound like a glamorous war job, but it is a very important one in making food do its fighting best, and should not be neglected. In every well-ordered kitchen there are times when sufficient food is cooked for two meals, but frequently leftovers just happen and sooner or later find their way to the garbage pail.

One of the first steps in preventing waste of cooked food is proper storage, says Miss Frances E. Cook, home economist, University of Illinois College of Agriculture. "Cold and covered" is the rule for keeping most leftovers attractive and palatable. Refrigerator space can be saved by storing foods that are good companions in the same containers. For instance, potatoes, peas and carrots can all go into the same covered jar or dish, for more than likely they will be used together.

Two jars for liquids is another good idea—one for fruit juices and the other for the cooking liquid from vegetables. Fruit juices can go into a chilled fruit drink, a gelatin salad or dessert, or a sauce for cake or pudding. Vegetable liquors can give flavor, vitamins and minerals to soups, cream sauce, gravy or vegetable juice beverages.

Potatoes Used Easily

Potatoes are one of our easiest-to-use left overs and yet are frequently wasted. They fit nicely into soup, stew or salad. They are good hash-browned, creamed or sliced and browned with a bit of minced onion, diced bacon or ham. Mashed potatoes can be made into cakes and browned quickly, and they make a fine lining or topping for a vegetable or meat pie.

Try combining bits of leftover vegetables with a cream sauce, or a tomato sauce that has plenty of zest, for a delicious vegetable casserole or scallop. Bits of cooked vegetables can also go into soups, salads and sandwich fillings. No matter how small the portion, it need not be wasted.

There are a number of interesting ways to use leftover cooked cereal. It can be reheated with chopped dried fruit such as figs or prunes and served as cereal. Or turn it into a mould, chill it, slice and fry it. Served piping hot with syrup or honey, or some of your own preserves or jelly, it is a fine luncheon or supper dish. Cooked cereal can be used, too, as a binder for meat loaf or meat balls.

The food we waste each year in our homes would feed the larger part of our military forces. Today most of us realize that food is a weapon of war—that we must produce, conserve, share and play square—if victory is to be ours. Making good use of leftover foods in your kitchen is one of the first steps in cutting down the huge waste of good food of which we Americans have always been guilty.

Today's America's transport planes, under the direction of the armed forces, are operating about 150,000 miles of routes carrying everything from medical supplies to munitions in addition to commercial carriers operating some 110,000 miles of regular routes.

Sweet Potatoes Should Have Role in Regular Menus

Urbana, Ill., Dec. 2.—One of the first steps in making food fight for freedom is to key our marketing to foods that are available in quantity. Just now the abundant vegetable of which we may well eat more is the sweet potato. This year's production is estimated at over eighty-one million bushels, an increase of approximately fifteen million bushels over that of last year.

A bumper crop like this should not be wasted, and there are many arguments in favor of using sweet potatoes to their fullest, says Dr. Frances Van Dyne, associate in home economics, University of Illinois College of Agriculture. They are a valuable addition to the diet from the nutritional standpoint, and they lend color and flavor to any meal.

Sweet potatoes provide energy mainly in the form of carbohydrates and are an excellent source of vitamin A. One average in size should provide all the vitamin A needs for the day as well as some vitamin C, and a goodly amount of iron and vitamin B, or thiamin.

There are a variety of ways to serve sweet potatoes, so why not try a number of them and then continue with those that are most popular with your family. In order to conserve flavor and vitamins, as well as preparation time, cook the potatoes without peeling. Bake them, steam them or cook them covered in the smallest possible amount of boiling salted water for twenty to thirty minutes, or until tender.

Once you have them cooked, it is easy to dress them up in order to provide variety. They can be spiced, glazed or served as orange sweet potatoes. Escalloped sweet potatoes and apples, combining the cooked peeled sweet potatoes and tart apples, provide an appetizing dish. Sweet potatoes seem to taste especially good when served with pork although they are a desirable accompaniment to other meats, chiefly chicken, sausage and lamb.

POLICE WORK

Oklahoma City.—(AP) — Emmett Clem saw his son's stolen bicycle on a passing car. He hurriedly got the description and phoned police.

"Quick work," nodded Clem as he arrived at police headquarters and saw the car already there.

Then he was introduced to the driver—Officer Chick Farris who had found the bike and was bringing it in.

DECEMBER WOMAN'S DAY NOW ON SALE 2c

TODAY on the HOME FRONT

by JAMES MARLOW and GEORGE ZIELKE

Washington, Dec. 2.—(AP)—Now you've been let in officially on one of the war's most public secrets, which also involved the war's worst censorship mix-up.

For weeks allied newspapers and radios and even axis radio had been speculating on a meeting among President Roosevelt, Prime Minister Churchill, Premier Stalin and President Chiang-Kai-Shek.

It all remained speculation. No one could say exactly who was meeting with whom or when. It was no great secret in Washington, however, that Mr. Roosevelt had left here sometime ago for the conference.

Then came the first real news, with strings attached. The White House gave out an official communique from Cairo, with some details, saying there had been a Roosevelt-Churchill-Chiang Kai-Shek meeting in Egypt.

But this White House information given out Tuesday morning, carried with it strictest instructions against use of one word of it by newspapers or radio before 7:30 o'clock (EWT) Wednesday night.

Just about the time the White House communique was handed out, a dispatch from the British news agency, Reuters, reached this country by radio from London. It also told of the Cairo meeting. It went further, it said Roosevelt and Churchill were continuing on to a meeting with Stalin in Iran (Persia).

There were two important things about that Reuters story: It bore a Lisbon dateline—ostensibly it was radioed to America from Lisbon by way of London—and it had no strings attached. It was for immediate release.

This all happened Tuesday morning, and in view of the 30-hour restriction on the White House story, the Office of Censorship here was asked if the Reuters story could be used at once. The censorship office said it had no objections and later, when asked, gave these reasons:

It was following its policy of letting into the United States dispatches which are available to the enemy and the rest of the world because: Stopping such stories would be just like keeping away from the American people information which the enemy has and which therefore cannot be considered as affecting "security."

Censorship's assumption was proved right. Elmer Davis, head of the Office of War Information, said later that 30 minutes after the Reuters dispatch had been broadcast to this country axis radios were re-broadcasting it.

Later Tuesday Davis, who said his OWI Cairo office had nothing to do with the White House communique and therefore had nothing to do with setting the release time on it, had his agency broadcast to foreign countries an account of the Cairo meeting in order to offset axis broadcasts and interpretations. But the OWI in its foreign broadcasts had to quote Reuters.

Tuesday and all day Wednesday until 7:30 o'clock last night the nation's newspapers and radios, knowing positively from the frozen White House communique on their desks that the Cairo meeting had been held, could only say it had been held—according to Reuters.

Davis has taken a sober view of the mix-up, called the Reuters story "represensible," made it clear he felt there had been a failure in British censorship in London, and was reported to have drafted a stiff note of protest to Brendan Bracken, British Minister of Information.

Annual Football Banquet

The mothers of the football squad served the annual banquet on Tuesday evening with the squad, their fathers, faculty, cheer leaders and drivers as guests. Ninety-five were seated at tables decorated in red, white and blue, with centerpieces of flags. The menu booklets were in form of footballs.

Rev. L. E. Weinreich was toastmaster of the evening. The program opened with pledge of allegiance by group. The following talks were given:

"Referee," Rev. L. E. Weinreich.

"Kickoff," Mrs. George Goni-gam.

"Return," Co-Captain Tom Durham.

"Out of Bounds," A. W. Schmidt.

"Time Out," collection of songs by boys' glee club.

"Sportsmanship," C. A. Snider.

"Intermission," Coach Lyle Dremann.

The co-captains for the coming year are Leland Shearburn and Glen Miner.

Mr. and Mrs. Otis Borop are proud parents of son born Tuesday, Nov. 30 at Perry Memorial hospital in Princeton.

Mrs. David Krops submitted to surgery Tuesday at Perry Memorial hospital.

H. C. Schuneman received a broken collar bone on Tuesday when a ditch he was working in caved in.

Bridge Club

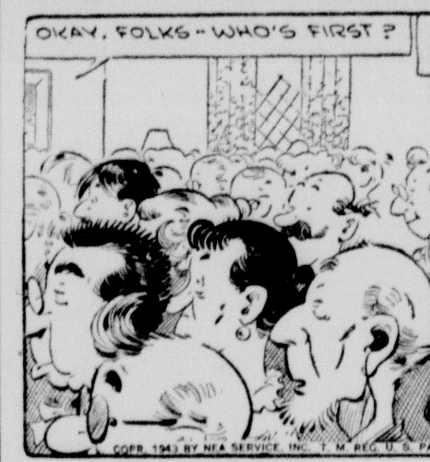

Mrs. Clarence Fisher was hostess to the Wednesday afternoon bridge club with two tables at play. High score prize was awarded to Mrs. Harold Hall. The club will meet in two weeks with Mrs. Charles Miller. Dainty lunch was served.

Mrs. Roy Atherton was hostess to her bridge club on Wednesday afternoon with two tables at play. High score prize was awarded to Mrs. Earl McMurray. Mrs. Ira Merchant will be hostess in two weeks. Dainty lunch was served.
